In recent years, the world's press has been full of reports of wild animals coming into cities in big numbers. In some cities, you can see birds, insects, cats, and mice. But sometimes it is dangerous when big animals come into cities to find food. In Cape Town in South Africa monkeys come into the city when they are hungry. They go into gardens and eat fruit and vegetables. They even go into houses and take food from cupboards and fridges! Monkeys are wild animals and they can make people scared. But the city can be dangerous for monkeys too. Sometimes, cars and buses kill monkeys in accidents.

Although humans like a lot of sugar in their food, it is very bad for the monkeys. Now, there is a group of people called "Monkey Monitors" working in Cape Town. Their job is to find monkeys in the city and return them to the countryside.

In Moscow in Russia, there are 35,000 dogs. They live in parks, old houses, markets, and train stations. Some dogs have even learnt to use the city's metro system to get from place to another! Many people in Moscow like to help dogs. They give them food and make small houses for them. This helps dogs specially when there is a lot of snow and ice. Other people do not like dogs at all and they want the police to stop them entering the city. 239
